

TO YOU
(T: K. Scholz)

So here's to you
I'd like to make you understand
To you
I hope you'll see my point 'cause

Every time I'm feeling sad
Because I have to face the facts
I know the world can't be that bad
As long as I can turn

To you
The rock I'm washed against again
Here's to you
The patient ears and souls and

Helping hands to carry me
However plain the truth may be
I know that I don't have to understand
The things I want to say

To you

For you will see me through.

And I am me
Just because of you.
And though at times
I seem to play the fool,
For now and always,
What I want to say is
So much more than simply "thank you".
So I raise my glass, my friends,
To you

Here's to you
The people keeping me alive
To you
When life has slipped and all the

Others fail, you'll help me up
And put me back where I belong.
And I hope by now you know
That this will always be
To you,

To you
Here's everything to you.
Here's to you
Here's everything to you.
