

TONIGHT
(T: F. Barucha)

The last time that I saw you
You were still mine,
Sunshine keeping the light alive
Most of the time.

That was a while ago,
Oh Lord, how I miss you so !
You know I'm not that strong
I've somehow got to get along...

So I close my eyes and be with you,
I know that your love is true.

In the quiet moments,
Scared and feeling blue,
Just to know that you're there, my Lord,
Guides me through.

My life is moving on,
When I think of you I start to sing my favourite song.
And as sure as I am sitting here,
My heart will always hold you near...

So I close my eyes and be with you,
I know that your love is true.

I nearly died last night,
Couldn't believe my eyes,
This tunnel of light inviting me –
It was a beautiful sight...

I wasn't sure what to do,
So I put my faith in you.
And travelling back to me
I could finally be...

So I close my eyes and be with you,
I know that your love is true.

So I close my eyes and be with you,
I know that your love is true.
